Overview Statement

Founded in 1970, Willamette Dental Group is the largest multi-specialty group dental practice in the Pacific Northwest serving over 500,000 members and headquartered in Hillsboro, Oregon.

Eugene Skourtes, DMD, is the co-founder, president and CEO of this privately owned company. Willamette Dental Group encompasses our own insurance products in the commercial and individual markets as well as dental care offices and employees throughout a tristate region.

Characterized as an Accountable Care Organization (ACO), Willamette Dental Group is fully accountable for high-quality care and total per capita costs across the continuum of its members. This model focuses on an efficient business model that lowers cost for patients while maintaining the highest level of care, support and accessibility.

Practice Philosophy

Willamette Dental Group focuses on proactive dental care. Proactive care means we focus on preventing disease rather than treating it surgically, when clinically appropriate.

- We practice evidence-based dentistry, evaluating each patient's specific circumstances scientifically then creating a personalized treatment plan.
- All of our services are based on the latest research and years of reliable science, leading to the safest, most effective treatment available.

Pronunciations

We say "Will-AM-it." The name Willamette is of indigenous origin to the Native American history in Oregon, pronounced "Or-eh-gun."
